PROFILE

I'm an aspiring AI and Machine Learning Engineer pursuing a BSc in Information Technology (Computer Systems, Networking and Telecommunications) at Meru University of Science and Technology. I focus on building intelligent systems that solve practical problems, with foundations in data science, networking, and cybersecurity. Alongside my studies, I freelance in web development and IT support, helping clients build websites and keep their systems running. I'm currently growing my ML portfolio and seeking an industrial attachment in AI, machine learning, or data science.
